

Ostrea

Design: Matthias De Ferm

Description

Ostrea is the name of this luxury stool which design is inspired by an oyster shape. The designer managed to translate these organic shapes into a chair with exceptional ergonomics. It takes an artist to roll, bend and weld coated stainless-steel tubes into this extraordinary masterpiece. Two refined cushion options are available for the Ostrea: a roundish seat cushion or a full surface padding that copies both the shape and the ribs of the shell. The structure is available in white, bronze, anthracite or pebble finish and cushions are offered in a wide range of fabric options.
